

In This Newsletter

- Hull keep fans guessing
- The Owls donate their shirt sponsorship
- Derby County aim to be fortress
- Stadium wins top award
- Azure add Southend to portfolio
- Referee Conference has England Connection
- FA join Grass Roots Expo at NEC
- Heathcotes Outside win contract

Our Marketing Partners:

Newsletter

We are delighted to be attending the Annual Chairmans' Conference of the UniBond League at the Blackpool Hilton on Saturday. As appointed marketing partners of the UniBond League for season 2009/10 we are delighted to be involved. We are more than interested in talking to any business that would like to explore a partnership with the Unibond league. (Call us on 01254 676201)

Elsewhere, the grassroots exhibition at the N.E.C Birmingham once again shows the growth in football at grassroots level and the importance to the football game in the UK. With over 20,000 visitors, the NEC event demonstrates the power of grassroots football. At football trade directory .com we have over 20,000 clubs that have registered in the last 18 months. This makes it a great tool when trying to sell products such as grass seeds, kits etc.

..

Hull keep fans guessing

Hull City chairman Paul Duffen has confirmed that the club have agreed a new shirt sponsorship deal with a 'multinational company'.

..

Read More >

The Owls donate their shirt sponsorship

The Owls donated their shirt sponsorship for the 2009/10 season to the children's charity and will now hand over up to £3 to the specialist hospital for every shirt sold following its launch on July 2. ...

Read More >

Derby County aim to be fortress

Derby are aiming to make the most of home advantage next season by pushing their average crowd back up past the 30,000-mark. The Rams were the best supported team...

Read More >

Stadium wins top award

Colchester United's landmark stadium - home to the town's football club - has won an award from the Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors (RICS). ...

Read More >

Azure add Southend to portfolio

Azure have added a new contract with Southend United Football Club to their growing portfolio of catering contracts in football. Southend FC announced Azure as their preferred partner ...

Read More >

Referee Conference has England Connection

The FA recently hosted its Young Referees Conference in Daventry. 249 referees aged between 18 and 25 attended The FA's latest Young Referees Conference which concerned itself with the development of refereeing skill.

Read More >

FA join Grass Roots Expo at NEC

Come and meet The FA this weekend at football festival in Birmingham. You can meet The FA this weekend at the GRASS ROOTS FOOTBALL LIVE Show, taking place between Friday and Sunday at the NEC in Birmingham.

Read More >

