

In This Newsletter

- Soccerade supports grass roots football
- Betting companies emerge as sponsorship saviours
- Sticking together
- Man City refuse to comment on ground expansion rumours
- Scottish Clubs face financial pressure
- FC Utd's ground-breaking season ticket a winner
- Stamford plan ground change

Our Marketing Partners:

Football Season is almost upon us for Grass Roots Clubs

The Premier League might have kicked off last weekend but many grass roots clubs are still in pre-season. We have all been there, organising team friendlies, leaning new training methods, buying new kit etc. The team would like to help and we are asking the names in the game to pass on some tips. Starting next week Craig Brown the ex Scotland Manager will be providing an insight to the game. As an ex school teacher who has worked his way up to the highest echelons in the game all advice is welcomed.

Soccerade supports grass roots football

With global acclaim Soccerade is now looking to support grass roots football across the UK with its highly developed natural formula making it the ideal Smart Energy drink for all sports enthusiasts and future soccer stars.

Read More >

Betting companies emerge as sponsorship saviours

The emergence of betting companies has saved the English Premier League shirt sponsorship industry from a second consecutive fall in value, according to an industry expert.

Read More >

Sticking together

UniBond Northern Premier League club Rossendale United (RUFC) and Accrington & Rossendale College (ACCROSS) are pleased to announce a partnership, initially for the next two years, but with the prospect of joint working for many years to come.

Read More >

Man City refuse to comment on ground expansion rumours

Manchester City Football Club has begun talks over expanding its City of Manchester stadium to a 60,000 capacity from its current 48,000 seats, according to The Guardian.

Read More >

Scottish Clubs face financial pressure

Scottish football clubs are being forced to contend with decreased revenue across the board, including broadcasting rights, merchandise, catering, and corporate hospitality

Read More >

FC Utd's ground-breaking season ticket a winner

At the start of the summer FC United of Manchester took the unprecedented step of saying to their supporters "pay however much you can afford for your Season Ticket".

Read More >

Stamford plan ground change

Stamford AFC has been part of the Stamford scene since the late 1800s, and since that time has played at the Kettering Road ground (or Handson's Field ...

Read More >

